Manacus vitellinus
Saltarín Barbiamarillo - Golden-collared Manakin

I became familiar with this bird when I lived for two years in the former Panama Canal Zone, many years ago. I recently painted this species to illustrate "The Panama Canal Birding Trail," a site guide to bird watching areas in Central Panama. I am an artist who has illustrated over 2 dozen books since 1977 on birds and natural history, including field guides to Costa Rica, Singapore, and Wallacea: my time overseas includes 6 years in the Neotropics and 3 years in SE Asia. I have illustrated many of the books of the renowned ornithologist, Alexander Skutch.
